So asked Paul of King Agrippa when arraigned before him a prisoner in bonds approximately thirty years after our Lord's resurrection. At that time the Apostles and the Saints generally suffered severe persecution because of their persistent restimony of the Christ, crucified and risen. The powerful Sadduces denied the actuality of a resurrection; their opponents, the Pharisees, professed a belief in the resurrection, but all save those who had been converted to Christianity through faith and repentance denounced the solemn testimonies of Christ's resurrection as the properties of the solemn testimonies of Christ's resurrection as the first fruits of the solemn testimonies of Christ's resurrection as the first properties of the solemn testimonies of Christ's resurrection as the first properties of the solemn testimonies of Christ's resurrection as the first prints are the posterior of the first fruits; afterward they that are the properties of the purple pentance denounced the solemn testimonies of Christ's resurrection as fiction and falsehood.

That the spirit of Jesus Christ returned from the abode of the disembodied and re-entered the body till then reposing in the sepulchre is specifically affigmed in Holy Writ. In the early dawn of that most memorable Sunday in history He was seen by Mary Magdalene and then by others, some of whom were permitted.

cifically affirmed in Holy Writ. In the early dawn of that most memorable Sunday in history He was seen by Mary Magdalen and then by others, some of whom were permitted to reverently touch His feet. In the evening He stood amongat the Apostles and quieted their fears by the assuring demonstration "BE-HGLD MY HANDS AND MY FEET," HANDLE ME, AND SEE; FOR A SPIRIT HAT'H NOT FLESH AND BONES, AS YE SEE ME HAVE." (Luke 24:29).

That the body they beheld was the identical body in which the Lord had lived amongst them was the identical body in which the Lord had lived amongst them was evident from the presence of the wounds made by the crucifiers. To further assure the devoted company that He was no shadowy form, no immaterial being, but a living Personage with bodily organs, internal as well as outward. He asked: "Have ye here any meat." They brought broiled fish and other food, and He "did eat before them."

Christ was the first of all men to emerge from the tomb with spirit and body 'reunited, a resurrection from the dead," and the first-boort from the dead," and the first begotten of the dead "(1 Cor. 15:26; Col. 1:13; Rev. 1:5), the victory over death thus achieved by the foreordained Redeemer of the race was positively and abundantly foretold. Draft Law Success.

"The draft law is a wonderful success," Senator Chamberland said in a talk to newspapermen. "I have seeldom seen such a reversal of feeling among opponents of a measure. Everybody knows that the drafted men have recognized the splendid value of their training. These men, I believe, will be the very ones who will enthusiastically support universal military training.

"But aside from the drafted men, hyndreds and hundreds of Americans formerly opposed to the draft have now declared for it. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise is one of these. I could name scores of others.

"I have seen little but enthusiasm for the draft on the Pacific Coast. And I may add right here that pacifism plays no part in the Far West. People out there think the only way to end the war is to lick Germany."
